 Table 1 Achievement of Objectives of Joining the Program/Course in the College

Source: Primary Survey, 2023, Lowest Value=1, Highest Value= 5

Table 1 presents the achievement of objectives of joining the program/course in MES College Nedumkandam for the academic year 2022-2023. The data is based on a primary survey conducted, where students were asked to rate their perceived achievement of objectives on a scale ranging from 1 (lowest) to 5 (highest). Across the various departments, the average achievement ratings vary. The department of Statistics has the highest average rating of 3.333, indicating a higher perceived achievement of objectives. This is followed by the department of Economics with an average rating of 2.615. On the other hand, Mathematics has only one respondent, and therefore, no standard deviation or average rating is available for that department. The overall average rating for the college is 2.391, suggesting a moderate level of perceived achievement of objectives among the surveyed students. The standard deviation for the college is 1.0501, indicating a significant variation in responses. These results will aid in identifying areas for improvement and taking appropriate measures to enhance the educational experience for future students.

Table 2 presents the ratings for the depth of the course content in MES College Nedumkandam for the academic year 2022-2023. Among the various departments, the department of Statistics has the highest average rating of 3.000, indicating a relatively higher perception of the depth of the course content. This is followed by the department of History with an average rating of 2.565. Conversely, the department of Economics and Mathematics both have an average rating of 2.000, suggesting a lower perceived depth of course content in these departments. The overall average rating for the college is 2.427, indicating a moderate perception of the depth of the course content among the surveyed students. The standard deviation for the college is 1.0088, signifying some variation in the responses.

Table 4Relevance/Learning Value of Project Work Undertaken

Source: Primary Survey, 2023, Lowest Value=1, Highest Value= 5

Table 4 presents the ratings for the relevance/learning value of the project work undertaken in MES College Nedumkandam for the academic year 2022-2023. Among the various departments, the department of Statistics has the highest average rating of 3.333, indicating a relatively higher perception of the relevance/learning value of the project work. This is followed by the department of Commerce with an average rating of 2.632. On the other hand, the department of mathematics has the lowest average rating of 2.0, suggesting a relatively lower perception of the relevance/learning value of the project work in this department. The overall average rating for the college is 2.473, indicating a moderate perception of the relevance/learning value of the surveyed students. The standard deviation for the college is 1.0727, suggesting some variation in the responses.

Table 5 displays the ratings for the effort in the successful completion of the course in MES College Nedumkandam for the academic year 2022-2023. Among the various departments, the department of Statistics has the highest average rating of 3.167, indicating a relatively higher perception of the effort required for successful course completion. This is followed by the department of Computer Science with an average rating of 2.760. The overall average rating for the college is 2.527, indicating a moderate perception of the effort required for successful course completion for the college is 1.0110, suggesting some variation in the responses. These findings provide insights into the students' perspectives on the effort required for successful course completion within their respective departments and the college as a whole. Such feedback is valuable for evaluating the workload and ensuring that students are adequately supported in meeting the course requirements.

Table 6 presents the responses regarding the perception of undergraduate (UG) or postgraduate (PG) programs in terms of preparedness for initial job and/or higher studies. In the Chemistry department, 6% of respondents felt that their UG/PG program may have prepared them, 5.9% felt it did not, and 14% felt it did prepare them for their initial job and/or higher studies. Similar perceptions are reflected in the other departments as well. The Commerce department had the highest percentage of respondents (26%) who were unsure if their UG/PG program prepared them, while 23.5% felt it did not prepare them. Only 4.7% of respondents in this department felt adequately prepared. In the Computer Science department, the largest percentage (41.2%) of respondents felt that their UG/PG program did not prepare them for their initial job and/or higher studies, while 18.6% felt it did. The overall perception across the College shows that 45.5% of respondents felt their UG/PG program prepared them, 15.5% felt it did not, and 39.1% were unsure about the preparedness for their initial job and/or higher studies. These findings provide insights into the students' perceptions regarding the preparedness of their UG/PG programs for their future career or higher studies. It is important to note that perceptions may vary based on individual experiences and expectations.

 Skills

Source: Primary Survey, 2023

Table 7 presents the responses regarding the perception of undergraduate (UG) or postgraduate (PG) programs in terms of developing effective verbal and written communication skills, as well as intrapersonal and interpersonal skills. The data is based on a primary survey conducted, where respondents were asked to choose one of the options: Maybe, No, or Yes.In the Chemistry department, 10% of respondents felt that their UG/PG program may have prepared them, 10% felt it did not, and 80% felt it did prepare them in terms of communication and interpersonal skills. Similar perceptions are reflected in the other departments as well. The Commerce department had the highest percentage (36.8%) of respondents who were unsure if their UG/PG program prepared them, while 31.6% felt it did not prepare them. Only 31.6% of respondents in this department felt adequately prepared in terms of communication and interpersonal skills.In the Computer Science department, an equal percentage of respondents (36%) felt that their UG/PG program may have prepared them or did not prepare them for communication and interpersonal skills, while 32% felt it did prepare them. The overall perception across the College shows that 50.9% of respondents felt their UG/PG program prepared them, 20% felt it did not, and 29.1% were unsure about the development of communication and interpersonal skills.

Table 8 presents the ratings for the experiences with teaching faculty/staff in MES College Nedumkandam for the academic year 2022-2023. Among the various departments, the department of Statistics has the highest average rating of 3.167, indicating a relatively more positive experience with teaching faculty/staff. This is followed by the departments of Chemistry, Commerce, Computer Science, and Physics, which all have average ratings ranging from 2.400 to 2.615. The overall average rating for the college is 2.482, indicating a moderate perception of the experiences with teaching faculty/staff among the surveyed students. The standard deviation for the college is 1.1148, suggesting some variation in the responses.Such feedback is valuable for evaluating the effectiveness of teaching practices and identifying areas for improvement in faculty-student interactions.

 Table 9 Assessment of Campus Facilities and Functioning

Source: Primary Survey, 2023, Lowest Value=1, Highest Value=5

Table 9 presents the assessment of different campus facilities and functioning in MES College Nedumkandam. The data was gathered through a survey conducted among students who were asked to rate various aspects on a scale of 1 to 5, with 1 being the lowest and 5 being the highest.

Infrastructural facilities:

- Chemistry: The mean rating for infrastructural facilities in the Chemistry department is 1.900. This suggests that students in this department perceive the quality of infrastructural facilities to be relatively low.
- Commerce: The mean rating for infrastructural facilities in the Commerce department is 2.211. Students in this department have a slightly higher perception of infrastructural facilities compared to the Chemistry department but still consider them to be below average.
- Computer Science: The mean rating for infrastructural facilities in the Computer Science department is 2.080. Students in this department also perceive the quality of infrastructural facilities to be below average.
- Economics: The mean rating for infrastructural facilities in the Economics department is 2.231. Students in this department have a similar perception to those in the Computer Science department.
- History: The mean rating for infrastructural facilities in the History department is 2.130. Students in this department also perceive the quality of infrastructural facilities to be below average.

Library facility:

The mean ratings for the library facility in different departments range from 2.000 to 2.846. The higher the mean rating, the better the perceived quality of the library facility. However, it is important to note that the specific ratings vary for each department.

Laboratory facilities:

The mean ratings for laboratory facilities range from 2.000 to 3.000. Similar to the library facility, a higher mean rating indicates a better perceived quality of the laboratory facilities.

Functioning of exam cell:

The mean ratings for the functioning of the exam cell range from 2.000 to 2.615. This parameter assesses how well the exam cell operates, and a higher mean rating suggests a more positive perception of its functioning.

Functioning of career guidance, placement, and training cell:

The mean ratings for the functioning of the career guidance, placement, and training cell range from 1.800 to 2.231. This parameter evaluates the effectiveness and support provided by the cell in terms of career guidance, placement, and training.

Discipline in the campus:

The mean ratings for discipline in the campus range from 1.913 to 2.846. A higher mean rating indicates a more positive perception of the discipline maintained within the campus.

Canteen facility in the college:

The mean ratings for the canteen facility in the college range from 1.500 to 4.000. A higher mean rating suggests a better perceived quality of the canteen facility.

Functioning of clubs and forums such as NSS, NCC, etc. in the college:

The mean ratings for the functioning of clubs and forums range from 2.478 to 2.846. This parameter assesses the effectiveness and engagement of various clubs and forums within the college.

Table 10Overall Rating of the College

Source: Primary Survey, 2023, Lowest Value=1, Highest Value= 5

Table 10 provides the overall ratings of the college in different departments. The average rating represents the mean score given by the respondents for the overall assessment of the college, while the standard deviation indicates the extent of variation in the ratings within each department. In the Chemistry department, the average rating for the overall assessment of the college is 2.2357, indicating a moderate rating. The Commerce department has an average rating of 2.4060, slightly higher than Chemistry. Similarly, the Computer Science department has an average rating of 2.4200, suggesting a relatively positive assessment. The Economics department received an average rating of 2.2088, indicating a moderate rating. In the History department, the average rating for the overall assessment is 2.3944, while in the Physics department, it is 2.6319, suggesting a relatively higher rating. The Statistics department has the highest average rating of 2.8333, indicating a more positive assessment. For the college as a whole, the average rating is 2.4175, suggesting an overall moderate rating. The provided standard deviation values reflect the level of variation in the ratings within each department, with higher values indicating greater variability among respondents' ratings. These ratings provide an overview of the overall assessment of the college in different departments, giving insights into the perception of students. However, it is important to note that the ratings are based on the subjective opinions of the respondents who participated in the survey.

Based on the analysis of the above tables, several key findings can be drawn regarding the feedback and perceptions of students at MES College Nedumkandam for the academic year 2022-23. The tables provide valuable insights into various aspects of the college, including the achievement of objectives, depth of course content, extent of course coverage, relevance of project work, effort in course completion, preparedness for job/higher studies, communication and interpersonal skills, experiences with teaching faculty/staff, assessment of campus facilities and functioning, and overall rating of the college.In terms of the achievement of objectives, the average ratings indicate that students in different departments generally had moderate satisfaction levels. While some departments had slightly higher average ratings, others had lower ratings, suggesting variations in the perceived achievement of objectives across different disciplines. The depth of course content and extent of course coverage received mixed ratings across departments. While some departments had relatively positive ratings, indicating comprehensive and in-depth course content, others had lower ratings, suggesting areas for improvement in terms of curriculum coverage. The relevance/learning value of project work and effort in course completion also showed mixed ratings across departments. This indicates the need for continuous evaluation and enhancement of project work and efforts to ensure students' engagement and successful completion of courses. The assessment of campus facilities and functioning revealed varying perceptions among students. While some departments had higher average ratings for facilities such as infrastructure, library, laboratories, and canteen, others had lower ratings, indicating areas that may require attention and improvement.Regarding interpersonal skills, communication effectiveness, and preparedness for jobs/higher studies, the ratings were relatively moderate across departments. This emphasizes the importance of providing opportunities for students to develop and enhance these essential skills, ensuring they are well-prepared for future endeavors. The experiences with teaching faculty/staff received average ratings, suggesting the need for continuous professional development and support for faculty members to enhance the overall learning experience for students.In terms of the overall rating of the college, the average ratings across departments were moderate, indicating a balanced perception of the college as a whole. This rating provides an opportunity for college administrators to identify areas for improvement and work towards enhancing the overall college experience. Overall, the feedback and perceptions provided in the tables serve as valuable inputs for the college administration to understand students' perspectives and identify areas for improvement. The findings highlight the need for continuous evaluation and enhancement of various aspects, including curriculum, teaching methods, campus facilities, and support services, to ensure a positive and enriching educational experience for students.It is important to note that the ratings reflect the subjective opinions of the students who participated in the survey. Therefore, further analysis and feedback collection, along with active collaboration between students, faculty, and administration, can contribute to the continuous improvement and growth of MES College Nedumkandam.
